

Gina Citoli

Entertains Your Soul

- Songstress
- Performing Artist
- Playwright
- Composer
- Visionary

Gina's music & performance art raises consciousness, shifts perceptions and unifies humanity.

Gina performed to standing ovations and rave reviews from New York's Battery Park, Den Design-Forum of the Museums Quarter in Vienna, The Sedona Creative Life Center and the Beverly Hillshire Screening facility in Beverly Hills CA.

NASA used Gina's song "The Alchemist" in a training program and her songs have been included in an International CD Compilation for World Peace. Among her cherished awards are the number-one rock ballad "It All Comes Down to Love" and as the number-one holiday song "Someday When Christmas Never Ends" at the Hollywood Spiritual Film and Entertainment Festival.

Gina Citoli

GinaCitoli.com

Someday When Christmas

Never Ends

Gina and her sister Merry Citoli originally wrote and recorded "Someday When Christmas Never Ends" in 1985. In 2020, in memory of her sister, Gina has re-released this song and story with an updated cover including the lyrics.

Humanity and the earth need this messaging more than any other time in our history. Thank you for listening, purchasing and sharing.

Someday When Christmas Never Ends

A Truce is called on Christmas Day its time to put the guns away.
Someday soon the word will spread and Christmas Day will never end.
Starlight, Star bright first star I've seen tonight.
I wish I may I wish I might have the wish I wish tonight

Oh come all ye dreamers, Oh come all ye men
Oh come with a love in your hearts
Oh come hand in hand our world we can mend
So that Christmas Day will never have to end.

It's a wish that rides on a rainbow and a vision that lights up the night
Peaceful silence laughing children knowing not hunger or fright
And here comes three wise men that come from afar
Bringing love and peace and understanding.
These gifts for every man and child can silence all the guns.

Oh come all ye dreamers, Oh come all ye men
Oh come with a hope in your hearts
Oh come hand in hand our world we can mend
So that Christmas Day will never have to end.

The time has come for change.
We must learn to treat each other and all living things gently
Then truly Christmas Day will never have to end.

Hark the herald angels sing glorious news to the world they bring
The news is peace upon the earth good will toward everyone
And their singing silent night, holy night the children are safe in their beds
Rainbows, dreams and sugar plums dancing in their heads.

Oh come all ye dreamers, Oh come all ye men
Oh come with a dream in your hearts
Oh come hand in hand our world we can mend
So that Christmas Day will never have to end.

Copyright © 1986 Gina and Merry Citoli All Rights Reserved
Contact Gina@GinaCitoli.com

In memory of Merry Citoli
1956 - 2019

